

BARRIERS BUILT TO KEEP OUT GAS FAIL TO DO SO

Forty-seven Bodies Lay For Three Weeks Waiting Rescue Party

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 19.—Jackson mourned its dead today. The little city after three weeks of tragic suspense was plunged deeper and deeper into gloom, as the realization of tragedy grew upon it.

"They got the 47," was the word whispered among groups which remained on the street corners most of the night. It meant that the 47 imprisoned by fire and cave-ins for three weeks had been found all dead. So great was the weight of the tragedy, so cruel the blow to hope, that the town seemed stunned. It moved listlessly at work while in the honeycombs of mine shafts, a mile underground, rescue workers still toiled, sewing 47 bodies of once strong men into 47 canvas shrouds. The 47 will never be seen in flesh again. They will be brought to the surface, maybe tonight, maybe not for another day, sealed in caskets, and buried, most of them, in the Jackson cemetery.

S. A. M. Gas Bad

As to the manner of their death, it seemed clear. "S. A. M. gas very bad," read one note scrawled in a trembling hand on a bit of paper and then was the single figure "47" still in more shaky outlines. It told its story. At 4 a. m. the poison gas had choked into insensibility the man who wanted to leave behind him some record of his death. Death came without suffering, B. O. Pickard, chief of the government's rescue workers, believed. Piled together from what the rude tomb on the 4,350 foot level of the mine told when the rescue crew broke into it at nine o'clock last night, the story of the final fight for life was something like this:

Tried to Fight Out Gas

Three weeks ago Sunday night the 47 miners found themselves cut off from the surface by fire and cave-ins which clogged the shaft. They gathered together on the 4,350 foot level, felt a draft where the air seemed best, tore the timbers from adjoining strips and gathered material from most anywhere. Then they began the erection of two masses of bulkheads. They stripped themselves of clothing and crammed it into the holes and traps to make the bulkheads tight.

Live But Few Hours

Sealed in they awaited the result of the barrier against death. Death was. She crept in, in the form of a poison vapor which gradually pierced the bulkhead. Stupor then came to the men and then death. That was probably not later than noon on Monday after the fire.

Since then the bodies have lain there awaiting the coming of the rescuers. At nine o'clock last night the federal rescue party smashed down the barrier to the watchers at the mouth of the mine, the word which dashed the last shred of hope—"We have counted 47 dead bodies." Most of the bodies lay strewn over the ground. Ghastly blocks of clay which once were humanity were sacrificed on the altar of gold, the god of California's mother lode.

Red Cross workers carried the word to the weeping wives, families and relatives. These were sheltered from the public. No one was allowed to intrude upon their sorrow. Miners hardened to the life of the camp set silent. The whole town talked in whispers, for today was Jackson's greatest hour of tragedy.

STORES IN MOOSE CLUB HOUSE LEASED

Princess Candy Kitchen Gets Corner Location and Bowler Barber Shop the Other One

The two stores in the New Moose club house on the South side have been leased to South side business men.

Geo. August, who operates the Princess candy kitchen on South Division street, has leased the corner store and expects to be ready for business there about Oct. 15.

The next room to the south has been rented by Harry Bowler, barber at 745 Church street, who will move to his new location the last of next week.

Aug. Miller, foreman of construction, says the entire building will be ready for occupancy by the middle of next month. It not only presents a handsome exterior but every detail of the inside work has been given careful attention and the Moose brotherhood will have reason to feel proud of their new home.

Horican Man's Rib Broken In Smash-Up Of Cars On No. 10

Louis Joseph of Horicon, driving a truck north on Highway 10 late Monday afternoon, suffered a broken rib in his left side when he was thrown against the steering wheel of his car in a collision with a car driven by T. F. Van Auker, Sterling, Illinois, four miles north of the city.

Both the Joseph truck and the Van Auker machine were damaged somewhat in the collision, fenders being crumpled and bent and radiators and lights smashed. The damage to the Joseph car will amount to $40 or $70, while that to the Van Auker machine $30 or $40, it is stated.

While details of the smashup were lacking, it was understood that slippery roads from the rain of Monday, caused the two machines to collide. Mr. Joseph was not injured, other than suffering the broken rib. No one in the Van Auker car was hurt.

A law suit was started Tuesday by Joseph against Van Auker for damages, and the Van Auker machine, in a local garage, was attached by the sheriff.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COLUMN IS BLANK TWO PLANS OPEN

Democrats May Write Names of State Nominees in Regular Column or They May File By Petition in Independent Column

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—There will be a Democratic column in the ballot at the general election in Wisconsin November 7, but it will be blank.

Democrats will be compelled to write in the name of their candidates, as officials figures in the primary election held September 5, certified today by the state election canvassing board, showed that not one of the Democratic candidates for state offices received the required 25,000 votes that would place his name on the ballot.

Several legislative candidates in their respective districts received the required percentage of votes, however, and will have their names printed on the ballots in their localities.

Official figures certified by the canvassing board on the republican candidates for state offices were as follows:

For senator, La Follette 362,445; Gendall 189,327.

For governor, Blaine 293,865; Morgan 129,041; McHenry 13,421.

For lieutenant-governor, Comings 268,465; Young 137,415.

For secretary of state, Zimmerman 244,621; Paulsen 151,277.

For state treasurer, Levittan 210,956; Johnson 189,290.

For attorney general, Ekern 217,773; Baker 171,797.

The Democratic candidates who failed to qualify to have their names on the ballots, and the certified votes they received, are:

For governor, A. A. Bentley 10,318; Karl Mathis 8,594.

For lieutenant-governor, J. R. Pfister 17,528.

For secretary of state, Peter S. Brunschla 17,010.

For state treasurer, Emil Tanck 16,573.

For attorney general, J. F. Collins 17,108.

May Be Independent

If the Democratic candidates, or any of the defeated candidates in other party primaries this month, or independent candidates, file in the ten days starting September 28 to get their name on the ballot, they will be placed in the "Independent" column, the secretary of state's office told the United Press.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATES PASTOR AND WOMAN'S MURDER

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 19.—The baffling murder of the Rev. Edward Hall, millionaire Episcopal rector, and Mrs. James Mills, his secretary's wife, was brought before the Somerset county grand jury today by Justice Parker. Parker charged the jury to probe the case, which he called an "atrocious crime," and asserted that the killings occurred in Somerset where the bodies were found.

HEARING IS POSTPONED

Hearing of the cases of Ben and Felix Brumski and Ed. Lorbeck of Stockton on charges of having netted fish in Lake Koshong, scheduled for Tuesday in Justice G. L. Park's court, was postponed a week, because of the absence from the city of the defendants' attorneys.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL IS VETOED BY PRESIDENT

"Neither Treasury Nor Taxpayers Can Assume Burden," He Writes

Washington, Sept. 19.—President Harding today vetoed the soldier bonus bill. He sent the measure back to congress with a message saying he could not sign it, because it provided no means for paying the more than $4,000,000,000 involved. Neither the treasury nor the taxpayers can assume the bonus burden at this time, Harding said.

The president today completed his long veto measure, and it was sent to the capitol late this afternoon. Harding's message was about 2,500 words, and vigorous in tone.

The message presented details in support of the contention that the treasury or the taxpayers are in no condition to stand the burden that would be imposed by the bonus.

House leaders had not made up their minds this afternoon whether they would try to get action immediately on the bonus or let it go over until tomorrow.

Little Hope For It

Bonus supporters virtually abandoned hope today that an adjusted compensation bill can be made into law at this session of congress.

Awaiting official word from the executive, but without hope that it would be favorable, bonus advocates made a final drive to line up sufficient votes to override the veto, it was learned. It was admitted that they face almost certain defeat. An eleventh hour poll of the full senate, it was said, showed that 34 senators, one more than is required, will vote to sustain the veto.

Fined Here, Milwaukee Man Faces New Charge In Fond du Lac Court

Edward Jacks of Milwaukee was found guilty after a trial before Justice G. L. Park here Saturday afternoon of shooting prairie chickens in Portage county in violation of the Wisconsin game statutes.

A fine of $50 was imposed, to which costs of $45.94 were added. Complaint in the case was made by Frank Hornberg, local conservation warden. It was alleged that Jacks shot the chickens on August 21 while visiting at the home of a brother, Charles Jacks, in the town of Grant. Hornberg went to Milwaukee to serve the warrant and arrest the defendant, who furnished bail after he had been placed in the Milwaukee county jail. He then agreed to come to Stevens Point for his trial on Saturday.

While driving to Stevens Point to appear in the legal action, Jacks ran afoul of the law in Fond du Lac and on Saturday morning was brought into municipal court there on a speeding charge made by Motorcycle Officer Ray Rogler. Jacks was charged with driving 32 miles an hour on Scott street in Fond du Lac.

A suit involving the possession of the flock of prairie chickens demanded Jacks' presence in Stevens Point Saturday, he told the court, and it was imperative that he be on hand for the hearing. He said that he was sure he was not speeding at the time of his arrest but did not enter a formal plea.

At Jacks' request the Fond du Lac court held the matter open until he returned from Stevens Point. At Fond du Lac he told the court that he was a World war veteran whose sole support was his disability compensation from the government.

Vennie, who was chairman of the Portage County Progressive campaign committee, was elected chairman of the Portage County Republican committee, at a meeting of committee members at the court house Tuesday morning. Mr. Skoglund was the principal business of the meet as was over, announced in response to queries regarding the funds in the county committee's treasury, that he had 25 cents on hand. Plans to raise funds to carry on a campaign were discussed at the meeting, and although no definite action planned toward the campaign at the coming general election, the determination to have the county committee become an active body in politics was voiced.

Appointment of committeemen from two towns in the county in which no Republican representatives had been named, was made by Chairman Vennie, and ratified. Arthur Van Order was named committeeman from the town of Hull, and A. P. Bentley from the town of Sharon.

STOCKTON INSURANCE MEETING HELD HERE

Small Assessment Levied to Meet Fire and Lightning Losses During the Year

Directors of the Stockton insurance company held a meeting in this city Saturday and transacted a considerable amount of business. They voted to levy an assessment of two and one-half mills on outstanding policies, the proceeds of which will be used to reimburse the treasury for a few small fire and lightning losses during the year and pay other expenses incident to the business.

This company has been particularly fortunate for a number of years, due in a large measure to careful selection of risks, and it is a long time since the policy holders have been asked to pay more than 2 cents for each $100 of insurance carried by them.

Mrs. E. Klodinski and daughters Loretta and Ruth, arrived here from Chicago this morning for a visit of several days with Mrs. Eva Pasternacki and family, 561 Fourth avenue.

Rapids was granted a divorce from her husband, Albert J. Zirkle, Celia Shepp of Stevens Point from Joseph Shepp, Emily Compton of Adams county from Myron W. Compton and Myrtle from the Balliam of Marshfield from Cyril Balliam.

Wood County Farmer Is Fatally Wounded In Shotgun Accident

Wisconsin Rapids, Sept. 18.—Henry Johnson, aged 35 and single, died in Riverview hospital on Sunday after accidentally shooting himself in the right arm and chest on Saturday when about to return to his home in the town of Saratoga near the Plainfield road, after working in a field near his farm.

The weapon, a 12 gauge shotgun, was accidentally discharged after Johnson had climbed up on his wagon preparatory to driving home from a field where he and a neighbor, George Glick, had been cutting corn. The shot blew off a part of his right arm and penetrated his right lung.

The injured man was rushed to Riverview hospital here and medical attention given him. He failed to rally from the wounds, however, and passed away on Sunday.

Johnson leaves an aged mother. He formerly had the name of Henry Altemburg but took the name of Johnson when his mother re-married.

BANK ROBBER AT MARSHFIELD SEEKING PARDON

Man Sentenced by Judge Park Here Asks Executive Clemency of Blaine

An application for pardon for John May, serving a 10 year sentence at Waukon for the hold-up of the American National bank at Marshfield on July 26, 1921, will be heard by Governor J. J. Blaine at Madison on Thursday, Sept. 21, according to the announcement of the applications which will come up at the governor's first pardon hearing since June.

The Marshfield bank robbery, for which May is now serving time, was one of the most daring and spectacular in the annals of crime in central Wisconsin. Arriving in that city in an automobile stolen from his employer in Milwaukee, May entered the bank shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and at the point of a revolver forced Assistant Cashier Jacob Leinwandier to hand over a parcel of money, later found to contain $1700 in currency.

Caught Near Prentice

He fled from the city at a 60 mile an hour speed, and although every city and village in the surrounding country was immediately notified, no attempt to stop him was made until he reached Westboro near the northern border of Taylor county. News of the daylight robbery aroused Stevens Point and was the subject of conversation on local streets for hours on the afternoon of the affair.

At Westboro Deputy Sheriff Zealey of Taylor county was waiting with a rifle and a high powered motor car. May went through the village at a mile a minute clip, but Zealey took up the chase and finally cornered the bandit about a mile south of Prentice, where the motor of his car went bad.

Previous to his capture May passed through a number of cities and villages, and even stopped for supper at Chelms, but although he was recognized as the Marshfield bank robber, no attempt was made to take him into custody.

Sentenced Here

May was brought back and taken to Wisconsin Rapids and on July 26 was brought to Stevens Point before Judge Byron B. Park where he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve 10 years in the state prison at Waukon. Shortly after sentence had been pronounced and while Sheriff Walter Mueller of Wood county, in whose custody the man had been brought here, was conferring with an official, May leaped from his seat in a desperate attempt to escape jumped from the court house window to the steps 20 feet below. Although he landed on his feet, the force of the fall threw his head against the pavement and he was unconscious when picked up by Sheriff Mueller.

Many Applications

Forty-one applications for pardons will be heard by Governor Blaine on Thursday, including three from life termers and two from men convicted of second degree murder. The men serving life terms for murder are Thomas Rosso of Barron county, John Beier of La Crosse and Jake Carbon of Ashland.

Many others of those seeking pardons are serving terms of 10 to 15 years and more.

Wanted, an Improvement Program for 1923

Most of the big things, the doing of which has made Stevens Point famous in days of depression elsewhere, will be completed, or almost so, by the end of this year. Nineteen twenty-one and nineteen twenty-two will have seen the completion of the Hardware Insurance building, the Whiting hotel, 10 miles of pavement in the city and nine miles of concrete pavement and 20 to 30 miles of gravel road in the country, the new high school, St. Stephen's church, the majestic theatre, the Citizens National bank, the Moose building, the new water plant and distribution system, several miles of sewers and 200 to 300 homes.

It is time to think of a program for 1923.

Each year should see something accomplished toward the permanent development of the city and increase of the facilities for the comfort and enjoyment of the residents of the city-county community. Doubtless there are private plans for new homes and factories, and we are all hoping that the Soo road will increase its plant here and add several hundreds of men to its force. Thus far there have been no announcements of important private work in 1923. The people, in city and county, are, however, talking of public improvements, to the policy of which we are now believed to be fairly well committed yet toward the execution of which policy we have as yet made only a start.

In the county we believe sentiment is growing for solid concrete roads on No. 18 and No. 10 across the county.

Concrete highways across the county from east to west and north to south would provide, not only for tourists, but what is vastly more important, the local needs of the people of our own county. The good gravel highway on No. 18 is wearing out. It was well built, but it simply will not stand up under the traffic of one of the great routes of the state. No gravel road can take care of the travel going through the county through Amherst, Amherst Junction, Stevens Point and Junction City. Road 18 is, and always will be, the great trail from Chicago and Milwaukee in the south-east to Minneapolis and St. Paul in the northwest. And no gravel road can take care of the travel on Road 10, which is the only road from southern Wisconsin actually entering the big playground district of northern Wisconsin. More and more travel from Illinois and southern Wisconsin is going north on 10, and 10 must be put in shape to take care of it. The local traffic on both of these roads is also tremendous. We have now seven miles of concrete on 10, and two miles on 18. We hope that the county, with the cooperation of the state highway commission, will provide for five to ten miles of new concrete highway next year. It could be done with short term bonds which would not strain the county's credit in the least, and it would be paid without the taxpayer knowing it. We ought to have also a concrete road from Polonia to Stevens Point, and when we get it will depend on the interest shown in the proposition by the towns of Sharon and Hull and the city of Stevens Point.

The city also must have its improvement program.

It has done well to order the two blocks on Church street just north of the Soo track put in this fall. That will mean a clean sweep of pavement on Road 10 for nine miles, from the northern limits of the city to a point seven miles south of town. The Chamber of Commerce comes forward with a recommendation for pavement on Road 10 from the bridge to the beginning of the new concrete on the west side of the river, a badly needed improvement which should not be put over any longer than absolutely necessary. With the close of this season the district between the Slough and the Soo track, and west of Division street will be well paved. Shaurette street and some small pieces on First and Second streets, Smith street, Prairie street and George street, although making only a few blocks, will be the only well traveled streets left unpaved for in that section. That is the heart of the city, crossed by almost everyone coming into town, going through town or going within the town from home to work, and it was well that it was taken care of first. We have a good start too on the north side, or will have at the end of this year, though there should be a couple of new streets put in there each year hereafter. The big district now fairly crying for street improvement is that lying east of Division street, including the Fifth and Third wards. The Fifth ward has no improvements at all, the Third nothing except three streets side by side on its northern edge and only one of them going out as far as it should. By all means 1923 should see the putting in of pavement on Dixon and Fremont streets, making a circuit about that part of the city, the extension of Clark and Ellis street pavements to Michigan avenue, and probably the paving of Michigan avenue too. It seems to us also that Center street and Jefferson street should come in for early attention.

We think it would be a fine thing to hook up Water street at the Soo tracks with the pavement on Seth street, and to connect upper Union street with North Second street.

One has only to take a walk or drive about the newly paved streets in the Second ward to realize how pavement increases the value of lots abutting on it. The corner of Wisconsin street and Water street is now a beautiful site, Brawley street is going to be one of the most attractive in the city, little Spruce street has been changed from a sand heap to a desirable residence street, and Pine, Water, Wisconsin and Plover streets are so attractive that they become desirable locations for as expensive a home as any man cares to build. A lot on Plover street, said to have been offered last year for $400, all it was then worth, is now placed at $1,000, and reasonable at that price.

The streets mentioned are only suggestions.

The list may be added to or changed. But above all we should have an improvement program for next year as big as put over either this year or last year. We can't afford to mark time. We are called the city worth while, and we want to be the city that's awake and does things. The money spent will repay the community in increased value of property and still more in comfort and satisfaction.

Wisconsin as a Winter Resort

Wisconsin's north lake region is well established as a vacation land for people in southern states, and for those residents of this state who like to spend their days of leisure in the summer "next to nature" acquiring a tan, sometimes spending more money than they know they should, and making themselves healthily lazy. Very little is said about Wisconsin as a winter resort. Saranac Lake, N. Y., is famed the country over as a winter vacation spot and it is popular, too, in the summer. Switzerland is a country whose main business is entertaining tourists, doesn't hibernates in the winter like a bear. Skiing, skating, ice-boating and snow shoeing have been popularized in Switzerland and each year the American idler spends their time, and a lot of their money, in the Swiss Alps. Saranac Lake has an annual winter sports tournament that draws photographers for the daily press, photographers for the movie weekly and thousands of sport loving people each winter.

Wisconsin, with admittedly the best summer-resort in the world in its northern region, and in the winter with all the snow and ice that Switzerland or Saranac Lake ever heard of, is seemingly failing to take advantage of the opportunity.

One northern resort owner is planning to go after winter patronage. He may be a forerunner of what may be a great winter Wisconsin business. Perhaps Wisconsin gets too much snow, too much ice and too much cold for winter resorters who are more accustomed to wearing silken underwear and silken stockings than brogans, heavy woolen stockings that feel as though the sheep on whose back the wool was produced lived in a lumber yard, red flannel underwear and woolen pyjamas (as they call 'em in England). But there's at least one enterprising resort owner who doesn't think so, and it is hoped there will be others who will see business enough to follow suit.

Responsibility That Sober

The blame folks carried the election, and I'm willing that they now run things, and take the responsibility, said a Stevens Point business man who is noted as a hard fighter and a good loser. That's the way to look at it. The Progressives are given complete charge of state affairs. There will be the responsibility for mistakes. They must see to it that the laws they pass are practical. They will impose heavier taxes on business and industry, yet these taxes must be reasonable, or the price that lays the golden eggs would be killed. The man with a big income tax to pay won't have to pay the tax unless he makes the income, and if he has the income, he can afford to pay a larger tax proportionately than if his income is small. Responsibility always sober. A candidate making impassioned appeals to the people on the stump when he is trying to get into office finds, when entrusted with power, that his ability to do what he promised to do is limited, not in this case by failure to obtain associates to work with him, but by natural, economic laws which nobody can set aside. The Socialists in Milwaukee conduct the city government about the same as the other parties did. The governments at Madison and at Washington go on without great change under each party. Administration of public affairs and enforcement of the laws occupy most of the time of public executives.

AUGUST HOLDS RECORD FOR AUTO ACCIDENTS

Seventy-four Per Cent of 182 Were Caused by Reckless Driving, Figures Point Out

The month of August holds the record for number of accidents occurring on state trunk highways this season. There were a total of 182 accidents, involving approximately 30 people. Twenty-five people were killed, 8 seriously injured, 177 slightly injured, and the remainder escaped without injury. One hundred and twenty-one of the accidents occurred on straight roads where the vision was good, 28 on curves and corners, 19 on intersecting cross roads, 7 on railroad crossings, and 7 at miscellaneous other places. Of the 182 accidents, 1135 of them, or 74 per cent were caused by reckless driving. These are astonishing figures but nevertheless fairly accurate. The Wisconsin highway commission is endeavoring, through this monthly report of accidents, to warn the public of the seriousness of these highway accidents. It is true that there is, annually, an increasing motor traffic, but this should be all the more reason for being more cautious when using the highways.

BADGER HONEY CROP VALUED AT MILLION

State-wide Marketing Organization is Hinted in Bulletin of Department of Markets

Madison, Sept. 18.—Wisconsin's six million pound honey crop this year, valued at more than a million dollars, is the subject of a bulletin issued today by the Wisconsin department of markets. Comprehensive details of the compulsory system of grading Wisconsin honey, stamping, labeling, marketing and exporting, are discussed at length in the bulletin, which is edited by B. B. Jones, agricultural expert of the department. The bulletin hints strongly in favor of a state-wide honey marketing organization, declaring that "such an organization would no doubt eliminate many of the difficulties now experienced by bee-keepers in marketing their honey." "Bee-keepers find that in selling their entire crop to a wholesale dealer they cannot get as much as when it is sold in small lots in a retail way. Usually extracted honey (which makes up about 85 per cent of the marketed product) sold in a wholesale way brings about one-half the amount received when the honey is sold on a retail basis."

NORMAL ENROLLMENT REACHES 600 MARK

Is Largest for First Week of a Regular Term in History of Institution

The State Normal school reached an enrollment of exactly 600 at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, the registration total predicted by President John F. Sims by the close of the first week of school. This is the largest registration in the history of the school for the first week of a regular session. Many more students are expected during the present term. President Sims told the Journal. Mr. Sims announced the enrollment by departments as follows: Rural 120; Home Economics 110; High school 126; College 26; Primary 120; Grammar 98. Total 600.

MISS DUNN TO BECOME TECHNICIAN AT HOSPITAL

NO TEACHERS' PERMITS

Properly Qualified Teachers Must be Secured This Year, Says Callahan

That no teachers' permits are necessary this year and that none will be granted was the statement Saturday of John Callahan, state superintendent of schools. Mr. Callahan said a continued shortage of teachers last year made issuance of some 50 permits necessary. "We have only a few counties reporting a shortage of one or two teachers each," declared Mr. Callahan. "On the other hand we have as many reporting a surplus which I am sure will provide all schools in the state with properly accredited teachers. We must shut down on the granting of permits. We should have qualified teachers for the children and if we continue to grant permits it will only mean that some will continue to put off attaining the required schooling."

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BRANCH IN COUNTY

Under Amortization Plan Mortgage Never "Comes Due" and is Paid Off Gradually

George H. Grover of Junction City is president of the Portage County National Farm Loan association, an organization which is aiding farmers with long term loans or mortgages "that never come due." Although the association, which is under the supervision of the Federal Land Bank at St. Paul, has been operating in Portage county for nearly a year, and many farmers have taken advantage of its service, few people know the manner in which the loans are made and paid off. Albert H. Dakins, of Plover, is vice-president of the Portage county association and V. P. Atwell is the secretary-treasurer. The advantages of a long-term loan "that never comes due" has been appreciated by many Portage county farmers, who have taken advantage of the plan. The Portage County loan association is under the supervision of the United States government, and has a charter, issued by the treasury department, under supervision of the Federal Farm loan board. The loans are made, and are paid under an amortization plan. To illustrate this plan the case of a farmer who borrows $5,000 is taken. The borrower is required to make payments which are equivalent to paying six and one-half per cent on his loan—that is, he must pay $325.00 every six months for each $1,000 borrowed. These semi-annual payments are called amortization installments, and they not only pay all the interest on the debt, but in 34 and one-half years pay off the entire debt itself. Beginning with the very first installment a part of each payment or one per cent or more of the loan is applied on the principal, reducing the debt and stopping interest on the amount so applied. Inasmuch as the interest becomes less as each succeeding installment is paid, the portion of these installments that is applied on the loan grows larger and larger with each successive payment and the debt is reduced with increasing rapidity.

RURAL PUPILS NOT IN SCHOOL KEPT ON FARMS

Enrollment in County Shows Increase, But Not Big Enough

Children in some rural districts in Portage county are being kept from school, according to County Superintendent Alice M. Gordon, at a time when they should be starting their year's scholastic work. While the enrollment in the rural schools of the county is larger than it was last year, according to estimates made by the county superintendent and the supervising teachers, it does not show the increase that there should have been this year. Enrollment Larger "While on the whole the enrollment in the county is good," Miss Gordon stated to the Journal, "in some districts we are finding that the children aren't enrolling. A two weeks' potato vacation is coming soon so that boys and girls can help in the harvesting of the potato crop, and that is the time when the children should stay at home, not now, when school is in session. The majority of the districts in the county show that the boys and girls are going to school as usual. I am sorry that the enrollment in the other districts is not what it should be," Miss Gordon said. Send Out Letters Letters are being mailed from the county superintendent's office to parents of children who have not enrolled in school, calling their attention to the fact, and asking them to reconsider their action before continuing to keep their children out of the class rooms.

Hearington Arraigned He Pleads Not Guilty To Charge of Fraud

David Hearington, address unknown, charged with obtaining property under false pretenses after he had made an alleged business deal with two local men, was brought to Stevens Point from Billings, Mont., by Deputy Sheriff Manuel Berry on Friday afternoon. Hearington was arraigned in county court Saturday before Judge W. F. Owen, and pleaded not guilty to the charge made against him. Bail was set at $1,000, and when he was unable to furnish security to that amount was remanded to jail to await his preliminary hearing in county court on September 26. Police at Billings arrested Hearington on suspicion when it is alleged, he attempted to sell an Oldsmobile touring car bearing a Wisconsin license, to a resident of Billings. The Oldsmobile is said to belong to Peter Woyach of Whiting, this county, who claims that he gave Hearington the car as a $400 credit on an investment he made in a trucking company which Hearington offered to form, to be called "Your Transportation Company." Another local man is said to have given Hearington $200 as an investment in the company, and then the organizer left, to go to Milwaukee, as he explained. The next word Woyach and the other local resident, whose name has been withheld by the authorities, heard of Hearington was when he was arrested at Billings. In entering his plea of not guilty in county court Saturday the defendant denied that he had intended to defraud the local residents in the deal.

GET BIG ORDER
FROM NEW HOTELJ. D. Baebrenth Signs Lease to Open Drug Store in The Whiting

Announcements concerning the new hotel at Stevens Point are announced. The new hotel, owned by the company of J. D. Baebrenth, is located on the corner of the new hotel building, and is to be opened in the near future.

John M. Teeling, lessee of the new hotel, is the purchaser of the Joerns furniture, completing the deal through a special contract between the Joerns company and a Minneapolis firm which contracted to furnish the entire hotel.

To Furnish All Bedrooms
The Joerns company will supply the bedroom furniture for practically every bedroom in the new hotel, 120 in number. Delivery is to be made by the first of November, when the hotel will be opened. C. A. Joerns, treasurer and manager of the firm, stated that the company has some of the furniture on hand while work of making special pieces was commenced today. Additional men are being taken on to handle this and other orders of the company.

No local sentiment entered into the big deal, the Joerns firm being placed in the position of a competitor with others in this field of business. Announcement of Mr. Teeling that he had found that the Joerns Bros. Furniture company offered the best values after he had spent months in "shopping," was especially gratifying.

Resigns at McCulloch's
Mr. Baebrenth, in opening a drug store in the hotel building, will sever his business relations with the H. D. McCulloch company, where he has been the pharmacist in charge of the drug department for the past three years. Prior to three years ago he was pharmacist at the Krems drug store for four years.

Mr. Baebrenth will purchase a complete line of drugs and sundries, cigars and candies and will install a soda fountain in his store in the hotel building, also purchasing a complete set of new fixtures for the establishment. He will leave the McCulloch company about the middle of October, preparatory to purchasing his new stock and fixtures and opening the new store on or about the first of November. The establishment will be known as "Baebrenth's Drug Store."

Wausau Hammers Wloszynski's Offerings to All Parts of Lot
Before a big crowd of Stevens Point rooters, Wm. Bowersock's baseball team was chased all over Recreation park at Wausau on Sunday afternoon by the Lumberjacks and whipped, 14 to 4.

The pitching of Emil Wloszynski came in for a good deal of wallowing by the Lumberjacks' clubbers, who swatted home runs, three base hits, doubles and singles to all corners of the lot.

Wloszynski lasted until the eighth inning when Walter Jakus was put on the slab to finish the affair. Jakus looked better than Wloszynski, and if he had been put into the game earlier, it might have been more like a ball game than the massacre that it was.

The first two Wausau men at bat knocked the pill over the center field fence for home runs, and two doubles in succession gave the home boys a 4 to 0 lead.

Stevens Point scored two in the second inning, bringing the score to 2 to 2, and the margin the closest of any time during the game. Wausau's batmen, beating a tattoo of hits against the outfield fence, continued to slaughter Wloszynski's offerings during the game, until they had amassed a total of 15 singles.

Kingbird Battered
The pitching during the game was nothing to be proud of on either side. Kingbird, Wausau's ace, was battered quite consistently by the Stevens Point men, although his hurling was more invincible than the chief Point slacker.

A hitting rally that brought in two runs was started in the fifth and continued through the sixth. With Halie Grah on the slab, "Pat" Hansen landed on one of Kingbird's offerings and sent the pill hurtling over the left field fence for a home run, and bringing the Point's total tally to four.

Umpiring Disputed
In the sixth some poor decisions of the Wausau umpire caused a rumormongering. Wloszynski was fanned, and fans claimed that the ump's decision on two of the strikes was bad. Schultz hit a long fly to right field. From the stands it appeared as though the ball hit the fence first and then was caught by the fielder. Umpire Friday of Stevens Point claimed that the ball was caught on the rebound, and the umpire-in-chief called it a fair catch. Doubling up after catching the fly retired the side.

PROFESSOR'S WIFE
TELLS SAD STORY

Confesses in Court Her Infatuation
For Young Man "Who's Who"
Was an Old Crab

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 12.—Humboldt named into the tiny court chamber here today for resumption of testimony in the Paula-Therman paternity suit.

Mrs. Augusta Therman, wife of John Therman, Notre Dame professor, continued her story of her infatuation for Harry Paula, whom she claimed as the father of Elizabeth A., a healthy lumped nine months old baby boy.

Mrs. Therman, prettily dressed in a blue fur-trimmed suit, sobbed out her story. "Who is the father of that baby?" the state's attorney demanded. "Harry Paula," Mrs. Therman replied with only a slight quiver in her voice.

Mrs. Therman told of her early meetings with Paula and how they gradually fell in love with each other. "The collapsed shortly after court adjournment and was arrested home."

During the trial, Paula sat apathetically indifferent to the testimony. A few feet away Professor Therman sat. He showed great concern for his wife. Mrs. Paula stood in the rear of the room and only once showed any signs of emotion. "Harry told me the wife was an old crab and that he would stick to me," Mrs. Therman sobbed. Mrs. Paula shrieked and then closed her head.

It is expected the case will be completed today.

500 GROWERS OF POTATOES TO SHOW HERE

Stevens Point Soon to Entertain Biggest Convention of Kind in World

Stevens Point in a little over a month's time will be host to the biggest potato convention in the world. More than 500 growers from 30 Wisconsin counties will come here to exhibit their products at the 10th annual convention of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, to be held at the fair grounds on October 31 to Nov. 3.

Detailed plans for the convention were outlined and discussed at a meeting of the local committee with J. G. Milward of Madison, the association's secretary, held in the Chamber of Commerce offices Friday afternoon. J. W. Dunegan is general chairman of the local committee, W. S. Delzell is in charge of entertainment, M. E. Bruce finance, W. W. Clark show management and James W. Hull publicity.

Central Wisconsin Favored

The association is making an unusual effort this year to arrange a program especially in the interests of central Wisconsin potato growing problems and arrangements have been made to cooperate with potato growing interests in central Wisconsin. Wood and Waupaca counties are already actively cooperating and many more counties will assist within the next few weeks.

The association is confident that this will be the largest gathering of potato growing and marketing interests ever held in America or in the world and that there will also be the largest exhibit of standard potatoes ever assembled in the country. The records of previous Wisconsin potato shows warrant this statement.

Much Interest Shown

In celebration of the 10th anniversary of the association, reports will be made on the work accomplished during the last 10 years in the interests of the industry. There has never been a time in the history of potato growing when so much interest has been aroused in questions involving potato growing, seed potato inspection, standard varieties, machinery and equipment, potato grading and shipping problems. The association expects representatives from several sections of the country to handle these questions on the convention floor.

The competitive exhibits will represent potatoes from 30 Wisconsin counties and will be the result of the selection of both standard seed and staple stock from the best potato growers in Wisconsin. Special attention will be given to assembling exhibits of standard seed stock representing the varieties under inspection in the state.

$500 in Premiums

The premium lists, potato show regulations and all detailed information will be circulated from Madison today. Secretary Milward explained here. It will reach the grower just before digging time. The sum of $500 will be given in prizes here. The executive committee of the association is composed of J. W. Hicks of Prentice, H. J. Rahmow of Phillips, Secretary Milward of Madison, M. E. Sibole of Marinette and Ed. Kringle of Rice Lake.

It was learned definitely Friday afternoon that the new Hotel Whiting will be available for use by the hundreds of delegates who will come to Stevens Point from all parts of the state to attend the convention. With housing facilities thus taken care of and the armory building, secured as the convention place, local committee members are turning their attention to entertainment features which will be worked out in conjunction with Stevens Point business men and others.

Includes Harvest Festival

It is planned to expand the convention to include a harvest festival, one of the big features of which will be a monster parade staged on downtown streets. In order to take motion pictures of the parade and other big features, the Pathe News service has promised to send a camera man to Stevens Point during the show. He will produce pictures here which will be shown in theatres throughout the world.

The local committee is open to suggestions as to entertainment features in connection with the exhibition of the potato industry, and invites suggestion from all interested parties. Entrees are invited for the parade and others who have suggestions or proposals, or who are willing to render assistance in putting the convention across, are asked to communicate with any of the committee members.

Back to Potato Belt

It is especially significant that the 10th anniversary of the association convention is being held in the potato belt and into the county which has a larger acreage of potatoes than any other county in the United States. For the past several years the convention has been held in Milwaukee, but Stevens Point, through its efforts, succeeded in securing it. It will mean that the state association will spend nearly $2,000 in Stevens Point, besides bringing hundreds of growers and growers here, asking for money and the free use of the building in which meetings are to be held.

Striking Corner With His Flivver Is Costly To Stockton Resident

Misjudgment in turning the corner at Main and Third streets Wednesday afternoon in his flivver caused the arrest of John Armatowski of Stockton who was placed in the county jail Thursday morning in municipal court before Judge W. F. Owen. He was charged with reckless driving and after pleading guilty was fined $25 and costs of $5.20.

Armatowski struck the sidewalk with his car when attempting to turn south from Main onto Third street. The front axle was badly bent from contact with the curbing and the machine was towed to a garage for repairs. A crowd quickly gathered at the corner.

BUILDING BOOM HERE IS STILL IN FULL SWING

Visit to Four Corners of City Discloses No Let-up in Operations

Homes are being built and other dwellings renovated and enlarged in all sections of the city, a continuance of the building boom which struck Stevens Point this spring. While dozens of projects have previously been mentioned in the Gazette, a visit to the four corners of the city on Thursday disclosed additional homes in process of construction or being rebuilt.

Farmer Builds Here

Frank Zelewski a farmer on the Wausau road in the town of Hull, is soon to give up this vocation and move to this city, occupying a new home he now has under construction on Sixth avenue, between North Second and North Third streets. It is a two story structure over full basement and equipped with modern improvements. The work is being done under Mr. Zelewski's supervision and he hopes to complete the house within a few weeks.

New North Avenue Home

Another handsome dwelling being erected on the north side of town is located at 319 North avenue on property owned by August Grabowski. It is a two story also, with full basement in which will be installed furnace heat and various labor saving devices for use of the Grabowski family. Their present home has been moved to one side of the lot and is being occupied until the new house is completed. A. P. Lewis and Sons are the carpenter contractors.

West Side Not Behind

The west side district has done its full share in keeping with this city's improvement procession during the past several months, a number of very neat homes having been erected in that part of town, while several other dwellings have undergone such extensive alterations that they virtually come under the rebuilding classification. One of the latest to begin the erection of residence property is August Kitowski, Superior avenue, who is putting up a one story cottage, 26x30 feet, with composition roof and stucco finish walls.

East Side Improvements

John Dobeck's home on North Reserve street, near St. Michael's hospital, is being remodeled and stucco finish put on the outside walls, greatly improving its appearance. Mrs. Pauline Bielawski, who also owns property in that neighborhood, at the corner of Prais street and Illinois avenue, has contracted with J. P. Lukasavig for the erection of a one story cottage on her lots. It is being placed over a full basement and will have much modern equipment.

South Included Too

Henrietta street, a short thoroughfare in the Sixth ward, located just west of Church street and running parallel thereto, is the site of a new cottage which Theodore Hintz is building on his lots. It is one and one-half stories high over full basement and will be equipped with most of the modern improvements.

KREMB'S HOME SOLD TO MENDEL SHAFTON

Former Home of President John F. Sims of Normal Purchased by Local Resident

One of the best pieces of residence property on Main street, a good hand lot week end when Mendel Shafton purchased the Krembs residence at 147 Main street. The house was not in the best of repair.

The property, which has been a two story house, was owned by the late John F. Sims, President of the Normal State Normal school, who occupied it for many years. Dr. and Mrs. Krembs had lived in the house for many years.

Back to Potato Belt

It is especially significant that the 10th anniversary of the association convention is being held in the potato belt and into the county which has a larger acreage of potatoes than any other county in the United States. For the past several years the convention has been held in Milwaukee, but Stevens Point, through its efforts, succeeded in securing it. It will mean that the state association will spend nearly $2,000 in Stevens Point, besides bringing hundreds of growers and growers here, asking for money and the free use of the building in which meetings are to be held.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Fred Erdman

The remains of Mrs. Fred Erdman, 11 McCulloch street, were laid to rest in Forest cemetery, Thursday afternoon. Prayers were offered at the house by Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, followed by services at St. Paul's Lutheran church, attended by many sorrowing friends of the family. Pallbearers were Chas. and Albert Gaedtker, Albert and John Holder, Edgar, Chas. Fulton and Wawilert Yorton.

Relatives from a distance who were here to attend the funeral included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kordian of Kendall, Wis.; her brothers, Frank and Fred Kordian, and sister, Mrs. Herman Kabehl of Kendall; Mr. Kabehl and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Harman of Kendall and Mrs. Boutan of Horizon.

Mrs. J. L. Smith

Mrs. J. L. Smith, long a resident of Iowa and this section of the state, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Vaughn, 1417 Main street, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. A complication of diseases caused her death after a long and lingering illness.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of Christ on Ellis street. Rev. Wilson Mallory officiated and burial took place in Forest cemetery.

Mrs. Smith, whose maiden name was Nettie May Worby, was born at Iowa July 27, 1869, and lived there until 20 years ago. She taught in the schools of Waupaca and Portage county for seven years. In 1893 she was married to Ludwig C. Larson of Iowa, who died in 1902. The widow was married, in 1905 in Stevens Point, to J. L. Smith of this city.

After living here for a few years, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left here for Ripon, Wis., and Syracuse, N. Y., spending four years in each place.

In June, 1921, they returned to Wisconsin from New York, intending to locate at Menasha. Mrs. Smith's health failed her, and instead of going to Menasha, the couple went to Oshkosh, where they remained at the home of a sister, Mrs. Florence Smith. Mrs. Smith was brought to the home of her sister in Stevens Point on Thanksgiving day, 1921, and since that time had gradually failed. She was confined to her bed since last February.

She leaves, besides her husband, three step-daughters, Mrs. Blanche Marshall of Chicago, Mrs. Inez Pope of Tigerton and Miss Marian Smith of Syracuse; her mother, Mrs. A. J. Worby of Oshkosh; two brothers, C. E. Worby of Appleton and E. M. Worby of Waupaca; four sisters, Mrs. Florence Smith of Oshkosh, Mrs. Retie Taylor of Everett, Wash., Mrs. Mabel Larson of Tomahawk and Mrs. J. W. Vaughn of this city.

Mrs. Taylor and Miss Smith spent the summer in Stevens Point, visiting their sister and mother, but were not here when she passed away.

Returns From Europe, Western Man Visiting With Local Relatives

Charles Sharpsten of Los Angeles arrived here Saturday for a week end visit with his cousins, Byron, G. L. and Miss Anna Park. He is just returning west from a four months' tour of Europe in company with Mrs. Sharpsten, who is now visiting at her former home in Illinois. Their itinerary included France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, and England.

Ypres, one of the towns practically destroyed during the World war, now shows but little effect of that frightful struggle, substantial brick and stone buildings have been erected in place of the ruined structures. Work of reconstruction is also going on in other French sections where battles raged a few years ago.

Economic conditions in Austria and Germany are very bad because of currency deflation.

One of the most impressive sights that the Sharpstens witnessed was what was once a forest in Belgium but which had been virtually destroyed by poison gases used in warfare, even the vegetation being killed.

PAVING AT THE RAPIDS

Last Stage Work of Season Begun in Down River City

The pouring of concrete on First street north at Wisconsin Rapids, between the Green Bay & Western depot and the Brown road concrete, will be started this week. This job, and the completion of brick paving now under construction in the downtown district at the Rapids, will wind up paving work there for the year. It was planned to pave a stretch on the Second road and also a small portion of the Port Edwards road, but difficulty in obtaining materials has so far delayed the work that it has been decided not to attempt to carry out these projects this year.

Seasoned Wood Wears Best

Packing boxes made of properly seasoned wood are found to resist rough handling six to ten times as well as those made of green wood. The reason is that the fibers of the most wood shrink away from the joints as the wood dries and in this way lose their grip.

DEMOCRAT NAMES TO BE PRINTED ON THE BALLOT

Secretary of State Hall Confers on Question in State

Portage county Democrats seeking state or legislative office need not worry that they will have to run on an independent ticket because of the failure of the state Democratic ticket in the September primary.

Although not enough votes were cast in the Democratic primary to insure the printing of the state candidates' names on the ballot in the general election in November, the Democratic ticket in counties and legislative districts has not gone out of existence, according to a statement given out by Secretary of State Elmer S. Hall on Saturday. Dispatches to that effect were sent out from Madison, following a conference of the secretary of state with the attorney general's office.

Answers Carpenter Letter

The dispatch from Madison seems to answer the letter of District Attorney Byron J. Carpenter to Attorney General William J. Morgan on the question, following reports sent out by the Democratic state central committee, to the effect that the failure of the state ticket affected the county and legislative candidates' standing on the ticket. The attorney general has not yet written Mr. Carpenter in answer to his letter.

Democratic candidates in Portage county seeking county offices were disturbed, and Republican candidates as well, when word was received by J. R. Pfister, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, from the state Democratic committee, to the effect that the county ticket had died with the state ticket.

Got Enough Votes Here

All of the Democratic nominees for office in Portage county received more than enough votes to have their names printed on the ballot, and Republican candidates were unwilling to have their opponents be put at what was thought to be an unfair disadvantage in the county race.

According to the dispatch from Madison, where Democratic candidates for county and legislative offices polled 10 per cent of the number of votes cast at the last general election for governor, they will be listed on the November ballots under the Democratic heading.

It was also announced that those intending to run as independents for the state senate, where their district includes more than one county, do not have to have signers of their nomination papers representing all counties. The post primary independent only requires the signature of from three to five per cent of the voters and does not specify that they shall represent one-sixth of the precincts as does the pre-primary independent law.

Democrats Meet

Democrats of the state were meeting at Madison today, to discuss the situation as regards the state ticket. The Democratic State Central committee has announced that the party will take a suit to the supreme court to determine whether the law requiring a certain percentage of votes cast on the various party tickets before the party candidates' names can be printed on the ballot, is constitutional.

ABRAHAMSON ENTERS NOT GUILTY PLEA

Unable to Furnish Bail in the Amount of $500 and Is Remanded to Jail

Clarence Abrahamson of Amherst Junction, charged with driving a car while intoxicated following a collision with the sedan of Alex Krembs of this city, on Highway 18 east of Stevens Point a week ago, was in the county jail Tuesday following inability to give bail of $500 in justice court before G. L. Park Monday afternoon.

Abrahamson, with his head bandaged, his arm in a sling and broken in two places, and with bruises on other parts of his body, appeared in Justice Park's court and pleaded not guilty to the charge made against him. His trial was set for September 28. Abrahamson, a few days ago when Sheriff John A. Berry visited his home in Amherst Junction, gave his promise that he would appear in court on Monday, which he did.

Extending Old Adage

A still old adage saves time. This is as true of clothes as it is of cloth. Besides the old adage, there is the habit of mending. The less mending the better for all concerned.

The club is entering its 26th year of active work and is a well known factor in the community, exerting its influence in a conservative manner in the promotion and development of civic improvements, child welfare, public health, etc.

The new club calendars recently issued, offer attractive entertainment for club members and it is desired that regular meetings be largely attended in order that best results may be derived from the carefully arranged programs. STATE POTATO CERTIFICATES ARE GIVEN UP

Federal Certification Only To Be Required for Shipments Hereafter

Madison, Sept. 15.—State regulations compelling every potato shipper to take out a certificate of inspection, have been abandoned by the state of Wisconsin in favor of the federal inspection certificates, which are optional to the shipper, B. E. Jones, potato expert of the department of markets, announced today.

State grading rules will be enforced more strictly than ever before, however, Jones said, and every warehouse man is responsible to the state for the marking of every sack with the grade and net weight.

Only about 25 potato inspectors will be needed for the carlot inspection necessary for the issuance of the joint state-federal certificates. About 400 were employed last year when state regulations compelled the inspection and certification of every car.

The fee for the federal-state optional inspection will be $3 a car, and such inspections will be made only on request of the shipper. Applications for inspection should be made to the department of markets in Madison, or to supervising district inspectors as follows:

Southern district, R. E. Ades, Wautoma.

Central district, R. C. Gibbs, Stockton.

Northeast district, J. A. McDonald, Rhinelander.

North central district, G. E. Hernis, Cameron.

Northwest district, S. H. Williams, Earl.

All shippers must furnish their own tags, the same as they did two years ago, as official tags such as were used last year cannot be used this year. Shippers must also provide themselves with the cars to be used in bulk cars. Penalty for violation of the state grading rules is a maximum fine of $500, or six months' imprisonment, and the marketing department may revoke the right of any violator to use the grades, thereby prohibiting him from exporting potatoes.

Only the very best potatoes should be shipped from Wisconsin this fall, Jones said today.

A crop double that of last year, and greatly above the five-year average, and corresponding low prices are the reasons for this admonition. Potatoes in the early markets this fall are bringing only about 60 cents a hundredweight as against an average of $1.20 through last year. It is predicted that this price will drop even lower when shipments are well under way this fall.

Wisconsin's production was forecasted from condition on September 1 at 37,353,000 bushels, as compared with more than 21,000,000 bushels last year and a five-year average of 28,751,000 bushels. Sixty pounds make a bushel.

LOCAL GIRL CLASSED WITH GALE, GARLAND

Miss Margaret Ashmun Is Mentioned as Among Literary Stars of Wisconsin

Miss Margaret Ashmun of this city, daughter of Mrs. C. S. Ashmun, in a classification with Zona Gale and Hamlin Garland as representatives of Wisconsin literary merit, is the gist of a story which appeared in the Sunday morning edition of the State Journal at Madison.

The article opens with the statement, "Zona Gale and Hamlin Garland are not the only noted Wisconsin authors," and then continues:

"Their works have attracted national attention and they have written so much about the state as to make their names household words. But there is one author, born in the potato belt of northern Wisconsin—Margaret Ashmun—who is entitled to consideration. Few people know she is a Wisconsin product.

"The name of Margaret Ashmun, brilliant short story writer and author of highly lauded books in rhetoric, has not been linked with the Badger state's Hall of Fame.

"Miss Ashmun was born on a farm in Waupaca county. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Samuel Ashmun. She graduated from Stevens Point Normal school, received her B. S. from the University of Wisconsin in 1904, her M. A. degree in 1905 and continued her study there during her years as instructor in English in the university from 1905 to 1912.

"Her career as a teacher began in the Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wis., in 1904, from where she went to teach in the high school at Helena, Mont. In 1907 she became instructor in English at the university, where she remained until 1912, when she moved to New York to engage in literary work.

"Of the impressions left by Miss Ashmun in the English department of the University, the most outstanding probably is her vivacity and amazing industry, along with which is combined an obvious sense of humor, all of which served to make her a sociable person. She was an enthusiastic teacher in her favorite course, which was a course in narrative.

"After she had left Madison she gave evidence of retaining her inter-

Electric Lights In McDill Homes For the First Time

Fourteen homes in McDill on Thursday night, were lighted by electricity for the first time.

On Thursday afternoon work of wiring these homes, installing the fixtures and extending an electric line into the hamlet from the Stevens Point Pulp and Paper company's mill, was completed, and the lights were first turned on.

Residents there, who have been anxiously awaiting the time when they could have their homes lighted by electricity, are highly pleased with the new service. The current is supplied by the Wisconsin Valley Electric company, which extended its line from the mill to the group of homes. While there are only fourteen homes wired and using current at the present time, work is in progress in installing wires and fixtures in other homes there.

The lights on highway 10 through McDill, which are to be installed by the town of Plover, will be put in next week by the Electric company. Five lights are to be put in the road, on the most dangerous curves.

PROPOSE GIVING NORTHERN HOTEL TO PETER LEHMAN

Junction City People May Yet Gain Possession of Property

Possibility that Peter Lehman, A. L. Voyer and other residents of Junction City may yet gain control of the Northern Hotel at Chippewa Falls, which they won in a lottery July 4, 1921, is seen, following the issuance of a notice of a meeting of the stockholders of the Chippewa Falls Hotel company, to be held Friday.

That the Elks lodge of Chippewa Falls, which conducted the lottery there on July 4, in which the Junction City people held the winning number, plans to have the property turned over to the lodge so it in turn can be given to the holders of the winning number in the lottery, is seen in this move. Ninety per cent of the stock in the company is in the hands of members of the Elks in Chippewa Falls.

Call is Issued

E. S. Barker, secretary of the Hotel company, mailed notices to stockholders this week. Following is the notice: "You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Chippewa Falls Hotel company will be held at the Elks lodge room, fifth floor of the Hotel Northern in Chippewa Falls, Wis., on Friday, Sept. 22, 1922, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of deciding upon turning the hotel property over to the Elks lodge upon their assuming the outstanding bonds." By order of the Board of Directors.

Stock Worth $115,000

The Chippewa Falls Herald, in its Monday edition, following the printing of the notice of the meeting, said: "It is reported that the plan of having the stockholders turn in their $115,000 worth of stock gratis to the Elks lodge is to enable the Elks to acquire the title to the hotel so that they can in turn give it to Peter Lehman, A. L. Voyer, Otto Schaller and the others, who were members of the pool that held the lucky ticket at the Mardi Gras drawing that took place July 4, 1921. The outstanding bonds against the hotel property amount to approximately $70,000. Attorney D. E. Cook advises the Elks that Attorney Fisher of Stevens Point, representing the winners of hotel, is strongly demanding that the Elks lodge make good of its assurance to give the hotel away to the winner at the drawing. Attorney Cook advises that the best thing the Elks lodge can do is to secure title to the hotel through a surrender of the stock by the local stockholders."

To Sell Hotel

"The holders of the lucky pool have arranged to sell the hotel to certain parties, who will assume the $70,000 bonds and then pay the pool holders the balance of the purchase price. By this means the Elks lodge hopes to square up the deal. It is reported that 90 per cent of the stock in the hotel is held by members of the Elks lodge. The members of the Elks lodge do not want to assume the $70,000 of indebtedness."

"The board of directors of the hotel company gave the Elks lodge an option on the property in January, 1921, to acquire ownership. The Elks lodge was to pay the indebtedness of $170,000 that was against the property. From the Mardi Gras funds $100,000 of the indebtedness was paid, leaving $70,000 balance. Judge Wickham last April decided in effect that the option was void."

Expenses Heavy

"It is reported that net proceeds of ticket sales and Mardi Gras totaled approximately $140,000. The gross sales were considerably higher but the expenses were heavy."

MODERN PLANT TO BE ERECTED BY J. N. WELSBY

Cleaning & Dye Works Soon to Occupy Larger Quarters at New Location

Mayor John N. Welsby, proprietor of the Stevens Point Cleaning & Dye Works, has announced plans for the immediate construction of a modern fire-proof cleaning and dye plant.

The only remaining detail of the undertaking not definitely decided upon is the selection of a site for the plant. Mr. Welsby has three locations in view and expects to select one of them in a day or two.

To Vacate Present Plant

The present plant of the company at 446 Clark street will be entirely vacated on or before February 1. It houses the mechanical equipment of the business as well as the offices. The new building will contain only the cleaning and dyeing departments, Mr. Welsby securing a new downtown location for offices and a receiving station.

The cost of the proposed plant will be approximately $10,000 and equipment which will be installed will bring the total investment to nearly $25,000. Mr. Welsby announced. He intends to make his new establishment one of the finest equipped in the state, putting in all the latest pieces of machinery used in this line of business. Expansion of the business of the company here prompted Mr. Welsby to build, giving him a plant which will take care of the increasing patronage being given him.

Immel Gets Contract

It was stated that construction work on the new plant will be begun within the next 10 days. The plant will be erected by the Immel Construction company of Fond du Lac, which has the new hotel job here. St. Stephen's church building and the new High school. The building will be a one-story structure and fire-proof in every detail and the exterior will be of brick or tile. It will occupy ground space of 30x60 feet. Besides dry cleaning and dyeing departments, a rug cleaning department will be established and the plant will be equipped with a boiler room. It is hoped to have construction work completed before the first of November.

Remains Sole Owner

Mr. Welsby announces that there will be no change in the ownership of his company. He is continuing to be the sole owner and proprietor. He is a member of the Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers.

Much Work Done by Smoke

It has been reported that a smokestack is to be built on the site of the new plant. It is hoped that this will prevent the smoke from the old plant from drifting over the new one.

TIME ELEMENT IN TWO DEATHS AFFECTS ESTATE

Kuhl Family Not to Share in Property Left by the Late Stanley Kellar

The death of a Stevens Point man after his wife had passed away will probably result here in the distribution of a valuable estate to relatives who would not otherwise have shared in it. The case, hanging upon the chronological sequence in the passing of two people, is declared one of the most unusual in the annals of probate matters.

Application for the appointment of an administrator in probate court for Portage county in the estate of the late Stanley E. Kellar, which is scheduled to be heard before Judge W. F. Owen on October 3, may finally result in the distribution of property valued at approximately $12,000 among three heirs of the late Mr. Kellar.

Dated this 16th day of September, A. D. 1922.

R. EB3E, Plaintiff.

JOHN ROBERTS, Atty. for Plaintiff.

Given By Mrs. Kuhl

The real estate which is to be divided was given to Mrs. Kellar by her mother, Mrs. C. Kuhl and it in turn reverted to Mr. Kellar because of his wife's previous death. Had Mr. Kellar passed away before his wife died, the estate would have gone to members of the Kuhl family in this city.

The heirs who will now share in the estate are Clarence N. Kellar of this city, Harold Kellar of Superior and Mrs. C. J. Kellar of Boston, Mass. The latter is a sister of Mrs. C. G. Macnish of Stevens Point. They are nephews and a sister-in-law respectively of the late Mr. Kellar.

Building Here Included

The estate includes a half interest in the brick building at 309 Main street, where the Pasternack clothing shop is located, valued at about $6,000, and personal property at New Rochelle, N. Y., of approximately the same valuation. Mr. Kellar died at New Rochelle last summer.

Powerful Lighthouse Beacon

The Langara lighthouse has one of the most powerful beacons on the Pacific ocean. So bright is the illumination from the lighthouse that the hulls of fishermen twenty-five miles distant can operate in the night without difficulty. A stranger entering the lens room would soon find himself ablaze unless made aware of his danger. So great is the concentration of sun's rays through the huge reflectors that in less than a minute's time a person's clothes become ignited. Heavy blinds have to be kept down during the day to prevent fire.
